

Dear friends,
Please join us for a special house concert with...

Pepper and Sassafras
Saturday, April 11
Doors at 7:30, music at 8

Jeffrey Pepper Rodgers, a grand prize winner of the John Lennon Songwriting Contest, teams up with multi-instrumentalist/songwriter Wendy Sassafras Ramsay in this dynamic folk-rock duo. Rodgers, also the founding editor of Acoustic Guitar magazine, delivers masterful band-in-a-box guitar work while Ramsay, harmonizer extraordinaire, adds flute, clarinet, guitar, accordion, and her quirky originals to the mix.

Here is a recent video of the duo performing on the public radio program Folk Alley:

If you haven't been to a house concert before, this is simply an evening of music in our home—live in the living room. There's a $XX suggested donation that goes directly to the performer. Some drinks and snacks will be provided for intermission. Feel free to bring something to share if you'd like.

Space is limited and may fill up in advance. Please email to reserve your seats. Feel free to forward this message or otherwise spread the word to your friends. Anyone interested in attending should contact me for reservations.

We hope to see you here!
